

Ella: Morning! Great day for a race, right?

Isabelle: Yeh I guess...

Ella: You guess?

Isabelle: No. You're right. Great day for a race! I just feel a bit nervous.

Ella: Just keep your eyes on the finish line. You'll be great!

Danielle: Wow. Those are nice shoes!

Michelle: Thanks. I bought them especially for the race.

Danielle: Do you think they will make you run faster?

Michelle: I hope so. I want to run faster than everyone else.

Danielle: Are you running your race or someone else's?

Roni: I'm not sure I can do this!

Ella: Of course you can!

Roni: But I'm not as good as all the other runners.

Isabelle: Stop comparing yourself. There's only one finish line, but we all have our own path set before us.

Roni: But what if I fall?

Everyone: Get back up. Remember it is your race.
